ORDER PROCESSING & MANAGEMENT

An efficient order processing department is essential to any B2C or B2B organization delivering a product or a service. Nowadays order processing functions have become overly complex thanks to multiple order channels, business supply chains and delivery mechanisms. Moreover, this is a function which is not critical to an organizations' growth yet consumes a lot of management bandwidth. This makes the order processing function a prime candidate for being outsourced to a professional order processing management company. We take care of the often onerous, but vitally important task of processing customer's orders. We have a team dedicated solely to online order processing. Our order processing specialists meticulously and carefully check and validate EACH and EVERY component of the customer's order before processing it, thus ensuring you have a hassle free sales experience and many more repeat customers

24/7 PHONE, EMAIL & CHAT SUPPORT

Not being able to answer last minute queries, information on return policy can cost dearly to an online retailer. It not only adversely affects your conversion rates but also gives a bad impression about your customer service. Here the expertise of our eCommerce customer support staff prove to be of great help. They are proficient at handling customer queries on phone, email and online chat. By answering the customer queries promptly they ensure high conversion rate for every product page. With our 24/7 customer support services you can also take your brand image to the next level.

COMPETITORS PRICE MONITORING & TRACKING

Today the market has become highly competitive and selling product effectively in this market is not an easy task. In order to sell your products to achieve the desired result you will have to keep your eyes on your competitor's strategy and costing terms. In this highly competitive market you will always have to be attentive and have knowledge about the prices offered by your competitors to the customers because price plays an important role in purchasing process. If the same product with same quality and features is available at lower prices with the other retailer then the buyers will always consider lower price online shop to purchase the desired item.

Our ecommerce competitors' price monitoring experts helps you to know, what your brand position in the online market is. We are also here to help you to make improvement in business strategies by comparing yours and your competitor's product pricing, promotion schemes. Once you have contacted us then you will have to provide us list of competitors, which you want us to track for pricing and assortment. After that we will drag and pull out all the information from your website and competitor's websites and then we will thoroughly study and match carefully all the products pricing, assortment and features. We perform this process on daily, weekly or monthly basis in order to provide you keep you up to date.
